Farmers and Threshermen! - Your Harvest Help Requires Wholesome Meat this Season

The men will gladly "Roll out" in the morning, if they know that the cook is going to give them the Bacon and Ham that he knows we handle. It is along time until dinner but they are satisfied when the roast beef or pork is what we supply. Oh! that lunch in the afternoon is what hits the spot if the filling for the sandwiches comes from this shop. As soon as they have eaten the lunch, they begin to say, "Supper is going to be lickin' good because we know where the 'floss' bought the meat."

Grand Patriotic Rally

Hon. Charles Stewart Delivered Stirring Address

Under the auspices of the local branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, a grand rally was held in the Methodist Church last Friday night, when ways and means of raising money for this fund were discussed.

J. A. McColl, M. L. A., who is responsible for the work of the branches in the Acadia constituency, was the first speaker to occupy the platform after the Rev. Webster, (chairman) had opened the evening. He gave a resume of what had been done by the branches in his constituency during the past year, and was pleased to report that the money donated was over $1100 in excess of the amount for which the district had been assessed. This year the assessment was doubled, but he thought no difficulty would be experienced in raising the money if a systematic effort was made. In this view, all speakers concurred, and the enthusiasm shown, promises well for the success of the local branch.

The Hon. Chas. Stewart, Minister of Public Works, was next speaker to occupy the platform, and his address will long be remembered by those who had the pleasure of hearing him. In masterful manner he outlined the work accomplished by the Canadian Patriotic Fund, since its inception and in convincing language pointed out why this fund is raised by voluntary contribution and not by taxation. The boys who have donated the khaki did not wait to see what their neighbors were going to do, and he thought it was the solemn individual duty of those who remained at home, to give in a similar spirit. "Canada is proud of her khaki clad men," he said, "and it would be to her everlasting shame, if when the men return from the war, they could not honestly feel proud of those who had stayed behind."

Mr. W. D. Bentley, the next speaker, said he had listened with interest to the Hon. Chas. Stewart. He felt that the objects of the fund, and its workings should be carefully explained and the fullest publicity given to this work on every possible occasion. The Hon. Stewart's address was the most lucid commentary on the work of the Patriotic Fund he had ever heard. He was sure that this district would do its part.

Wm. McAllister contributed a couple of Scotch songs and stories to the evening's program which won hearty applause.

Death of Mrs. Walter Fiske

The many friends will hear with deep regret of the sudden death of Mrs. Walter Fiske, at her home near Excel, after a short illness, on Saturday, the 16th of September.

Mr. and Mrs. Fiske came to Excel from Menton, Michigan, and have been living on their farm near Excel. Mrs. Fiske will be missed in the Red Cross circle as she was an ardent and faithful worker.

Mrs. Fiske accompanied the remains to the old home in Michigan, where they will be interred. Floral tributes from Excel will be supplied by a friend at Menton. The heartfelt sympathy of the community is extended to the sorrowing husband in his bereavement.

The Kaiser, having ruthlessly trampled under foot some of the fairest regions of Europe, and scattered their inhabitants to wander as refugees far from their homes, now calls upon the legions of Germany to prevent a like treading from overtaking the German people. He has shown the wind. How can he hope to escape the whirlwind? He has been deaf to the cry of the oppressed Belgians and Poles and Serbs. How can he expect pity who has shown none? The war upon which he enters, he will soon realize his position in the community. It takes courage tered to identify, advantage of the vicinity of the German military machine and of the industrial organization behind it is no longer conducted as he wills. The Allies have patiently labored for two years to create a mightier war machine than that of Germany. They have succeeded. They have built a machine that will be the backbone of the part of the business man to say "no" to the oily-tongued dead-beat with the ear marks of honesty, but it will pay to brace up. The credit system is a common evil to business, and there are people who would buy the moon if they could pay it on credit. Blacklisting dead-beats would save a lot of trouble.—From the Durham Chronicle.

The Kaiser, seeing inevitable defeat here, until recently, he saw nothing but overwhelming victory, begins to make excuses, to declare that Germany is the victim of a British plot and is fighting not to conquar her neighbors territory, but to guard herself against invasion and dismemberment. The lie is unconvincing. The bold avowal of Mazzini's "The German war," we'll let the better represents Germania's spirit, "The German War Lord went forth to conquer with World Power or

Seed Grain Loans

"That in the opinion of this meeting, every possible effort should be made to collect the amount of the balances outstanding under seed and grain relief not later than June 30th, 1917." This was the motion unanimously passed at a conference held the other day under the auspices of the Calgary Board of Trade. Representatives from the dominion and provincial governments were present also.

The conference was faced with the fact that failure to repay the advances made by the Dominion government in the winter of 1914, when $41,000,000 was loaned for seed grain and settler's supplies, was liable to do serious injury to the credit of western Canada farmers. Only $2,000,000 has been repaid so far.

Not many of the farmers in western Canada will have any difficulty in paying off the loans against their lands. We had a bountiful harvest last year, and this year, altho the hail damaged some of the grain, and the minor losses from frost and the rust, the farmer should now be "on his feet" and able to settle for the loans that was advanced to him during the winter of 1914-15.

Favorable Weather for Threshing

Since we informed the weather men in our last edition that we knew that he had a supply of fine weather on hand, he has given us the best until yesterday, when it showered. It was clear again this morning. The shower didn't affect the threshing, as many commenced today near town and some began as early as last Monday.

It is reported that wheat on the stubble is going about twenty bushels an acre, and on the other hand about thirty-five and forty bushels.

Some of the grain producers think that the price of wheat will take a heavy drop, as the Allies are in a position, whereby at any time, the Danubian may be opened. The markets would then be flooded with the Russian wheat that has accumulated for the past two seasons.

Today wheat is selling at $1.35 in town. On page five you will find the market reports, as given to us this morning by local grain buyers. The price of wheat is the same today as it was a week ago. There was only a slight fluctuation during the week.

A Shrewd Buyer

The average farmer has it all over the average city man in the care with which he selects his motor car. The latter is usually strong on looks and design, but doesn't figure that knowledge of mechanical details is of special value to him, because he is in close touch with repair shops and garages where possible troubles may be promptly remedied.

The ruralist, however, is nearly always some miles away from mechanical aid, and his experience with farm machinery in general, has taught him more or less about machinery. He is usually handy with tools and can make ordinary repairs himself.

He is familiar with gas engines which are a common item of farm equipment, so in choosing his motor car he takes careful note of its mechanical features. He wants a motor car that is simple in construction but with plenty of power to carry him over the none too good country roads.

He wants a car that is dependable, so he buys a Ford

He wants a car that is easy on tires and one that will give him twenty miles and over per gallon of gasoline. Economy in upkeep cost is a matter he considers carefully. He works hard for his money and he takes care to spend it where he will get value received.

The majority of farmers today are driving the Ford because it meets all their requirements. The farmer knows from the experience of thousands of other Ford owners that he gets his money's worth and then some. It is a profitable investment, and can be put to a thousand different uses where that saved means money in the pocket.

The farmer, too, finds it keeps the young folks content to live on the farm, enabling them to still keep in close touch with the towns and cities nearby. Knowing they can get into town easily in the evening, there isn't the temptation to desert the farm for the attractions which appear to exist in town and city life. The Ford is the car for the farmer and his family and is just as important a utility on the farm as a mower, or any other farm implement.

OilPull Means This

FUEL at one-half the price means lower operating costs, smaller upkeep expenses and bigger profits.

Bear in mind that the OilPull is the only tractor that will successfully burn kerosene and cheaper oil fuels at all loads, under all conditions—all the time.

The OilPull, through deep plowing and thorough soil working, is increasing crops for a great many Dixie owners—in some cases doubling them. Burning kerosene, the OilPull adds this increase to your bank account at the lower possible cost.

A more dependable tractor than the OilPull can't be bought and you will find it able to take care of all your power jobs, whether draw-bar or belt. Two sizes, 15-30 and 30-50 horsepower.
